This was our first bed and breakfast stay. We loved the Victorian house and being here was a fabulous experience. The food and hospitality were exceptional.

Dubuque is a city born of the Mississippi River, nurtured by men and women who left a rich legacy in Victorian mansions, Tiffany-windowed churches and grand public buildings. Today many are restored as museums, galleries, hotels, restaurants, antique and speciality shops.

You'll find Dubuque a picturesque, charming town - a work of art. In fact, we call it "Masterpiece on the Mississippi." But the Dubuque area is not the kind of masterpiece that you'll just sit back and admire. There's too much to do!

Dip your toes in the world-famous Mighty Mississippi River and ride an authentic paddleboat. Tour museums, like the National Mississippi River Museum and Aquarium; historical sites, such as the Ham House, home of Mathias Ham, early founder of the City; and national landmarks. Take in a show. See Victorian architecture and Louis Tiffany stained glass windows. Run bases at the Field of Dreams movie site. Hit the jackpot at our fabulous casinos. Shop for antiques and gifts. Ride a cable car up the sheer side of a bluff, hop aboard a trolley, listen to the clip-clop hooves as you ride in a horse-drawn carriage, or enjoy miles of a beautiful hiking and biking trails. Fishing and horseback riding are also available. Walk along our Mississippi Riverwalk or cruise our riverboats, the Spirit of Dubuque and Miss Dubuque.

The area's attractions do not end with warm weather. In winter, the Mississippi mountains afford the finest downhill skiing in the Midwest. For the cross country skier, the rolling farm land offers trails to test the endurance of the most avid. For nature lovers, the skies above the Mississippi valley provide a majestic view of soaring eagles. Dubuque is a masterpiece that everyone can appreciate.

Victorian elegance comes alive for you at The Hancock House, nestled in the bluffs of historic Dubuque, Iowa. The Hancock House, listed on the National Register of Historic Places, shows Queen Anne architecture at its finest. The Hancock House, built in 1891 by the Midwest's largest wholesale grocer and distributor, Charles T. Hancock, offers unique rooms, each with its own charm and character.

All of the rooms, are authentically decorated in period antique furnishings maintaining the integrity of the original Hancock House. You are invited to select just the right room for you or that special loved one.

Take a step back in time and experience gracious hospitality in a Victorian setting.

Upon arrival, Innkeepers will warmly greet you at the door welcoming you inside. They are what makes this home so charming and your first few minutes with them will make this evident. Their brief tour of the main guest facilities will include a stroll through the breathtaking dining room where you'll be served a full breakfast each morning. The friendly atmosphere and warm surroundings make conversation at the table comfortable and enjoyable. Through the dining room is the guest pantry where you are invited to help yourself to a cup of coffee or tea or some cookies, also available are complimentary wines and imported beer for your enjoyment.

Whatever the occasion, the mood and coziness of not only the rooms but the whole house makes everyday and evening a special one.

Chris and Karla

You have the most romantic and charming B&B. Our stay made our 10th anniversary a very special one! We will return! Thanks for your wonderful hospitality and warm welcome.

Bob and Andy

The wrap-around porch is a perfect place to spend quiet relaxing moments, enjoying breathtaking sunrises and incredible sunsets. The porch swing is ideal for a romantic conversation or just a place to sip your favorite beverage and listen to the crickets enchanting song. See for yourself the spectacular Mississippi River Valley view taking in the states of Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Also located on the main floor is the south parlor, where you are welcome to relax and take in the charm of this Queen Anne styled home. The period furnishings and handsome decor can spur hours of conversation. Perhaps you can even corner Chuck for some history of the home and the beautiful antiques within. Be sure to ask about the fireplace in this room, it won a blue ribbon at the 1893 Chicago World's Fair. You are also welcome to lounge in the north parlor and enjoy the beautiful view overlooking historic Dubuque and the Mississippi River. There is even a telescope here so you can make the most of this rare view.
